Educational Leadership and Policy

The Educational Leadership and Policy (EDLP) unit is within the Educational Policy Studies and Practice Department (EPSP) of the College of Education, and is designed to advance knowledge and address enduring and future problems of schools by:

- Exploring the issues of social justice for the educational equity and opportunities of all students.
- Engaging in research that is in the foreground current socio-cultural, economic, and political contexts (i.e., market-based reform, college readiness, turning around failing schools, building capacity, controversies of globalizing educational policy).
- Addressing the significance of the changing and challenging school contexts; and
- Following ethical principles.

Graduates will have the skills and research background, be able to challenge existing systems that discriminate against people, adapt to a changing world, predict the consequences of proposed action, and sustain continuous education improvements over time. The development of skills and qualities that will enhance the ability of leaders to empower, inspire, and guide the performance of others in achieving the desired goals of a school, a school district or a community will be the focus of this program.

Conceptual Frame

Conceptual Foundation for Preparing the Next Generation of Leaders

Creating a diverse and inclusive community, capable of addressing complex social issues and interrogating persistent global issues, undergirds the programs in Educational Leadership and Policy. We do not believe that great minds think alike. The challenges facing us in the 21st century require diverse thinkers and educators who can work collaboratively, creatively, and with integrity to positively impact schooling and affect social change. That diversity extends to identities beyond just race, ethnicity, and gender to include sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, socioeconomic status, life experiences, religion, and political and ideological perspectives.

Our intellectual challenge, then, is to continue to reorient our programs to feature the range of theoretical and empirical scholarship that will enhance the ability of our graduates to effectively transform current structures and practices in the schools and in public policy. To achieve our aspirations for an EDLP new generation, we recognize that all of our aims, ethics, and practices are interconnected and interdependent, and that we all share responsibility for equity and diversity in collaboration with colleagues in the college, university, schools, businesses, community colleges, and Arizona's diverse communities. In sum,

- We affirm the importance of equity and diversity as core values.
- We believe we cannot achieve the widest and best range of equity and diversity without a diverse faculty and diverse students.
- We assert that diversity is “inextricably” linked to excellence – diversity is a necessary condition for excellence in teaching, research, service, outreach, and day-to-day life in EDLP.

These core EDLP program values of equity and diversity will infuse and inform thinking, policies, and practices throughout the program, from mission to strategic plans, to student admissions, to hiring a new faculty member.

Like most educational leadership programs across the U.S., the Educational Leadership and Policy program currently uses the National Professional Standards for Educational Leaders 2015 (PSEL) as a basis for curriculum in the MEd, MA, EdD, and PhD programs. As part of the next generation, EDLP faculty members will expand the boundaries of the PSEL standards to include a more explicit focus on equity, culture, and diversity.

Professional Standards for Educational Leaders

All EDLP courses as well as the specialization classes leading to certification are correlated with the PSEL (Professional Standards for Educational Leaders 2015).

Effective educational leaders:

1. Develop, advocate, and enact a shared mission, vision, and core values of high-quality education and academic success and well-being of each student.
2. Act ethically and according to professional norms to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
3. Strive for equity of educational opportunity and culturally responsive practices to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
4. Develop and support intellectually rigorous and coherent systems of curriculum, instruction, and assessment to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
5. Cultivate an inclusive, caring, and supportive school community that promotes the academic success and well-being of each student.
6. Develop the professional capacity and practice of school personnel to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
7. Foster a professional community of teachers and other professional staff to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
8. Engage families and the community in meaningful, reciprocal and mutually beneficial ways to promote each student's academic success and well-being.
9. Manage school operations and resources to promote each student's academic success and well-being.

EDLP Degree Programs

The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) Degree Program

The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) degree prepares students to use theory and research to inform and guide their inquiry and practice, draw from current trends in education and apply this knowledge to enact educational change, promote responsive, equitable, safe, and socially just educational environments, and apply best practices to meet the demands of today's varying educational contexts. The MEd program is appropriate for all aspiring leaders and includes the coursework required for PK-12 school principal certification in the state of Arizona.

The Master of Arts in Education Policy (MA) Degree Program

The Master of Arts in Education Policy (MA) provides students with an understanding of education policymaking history and process and develops their skills to analyze data and inform policies. The program will provide anyone interested in education policy with the necessary background to engage in the policymaking process: classroom teachers, school leaders, university personnel, community members, and those interested in continuing their studies in a doctoral program.

The Education Doctorate (EdD) Degree Program

The Doctor of Education program is a practice-based, intensive doctoral-level 3-year program for professional leadership in PK-20 and community-based educational contexts. The EdD prepares leaders to address complex educational challenges, effectively translate research into practice, influence policy, use data in decision-making, and organize individuals and groups to address challenges collaboratively and successfully. The EdD is a program in Arizona Online Global Campus. All classes are asynchronous.

The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) Degree Program

The Educational Leadership and Policy, PhD, program is designed to expand the boundaries of the educational leadership and policy field with explicit foci on inclusivity, social justice, and anti-racism. The program prepares leaders to achieve results in the nation's schools by translating theory and knowledge into practice, applying skills in interpersonal relations and political diplomacy, applying research and data-based, decision-making skills, and following ethical principles. This doctoral program is designed for practicing and aspiring administrators who wish to expand their skills as researchers and policy makers.

The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) Degree Program

The program of study for the Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) degree within Educational Policy Studies and Practice Department (EPSP) at The University of Arizona is designed for individuals who are seeking careers in leadership roles and administrative certificates in education. The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) degree prepares students to:

- use theory and research to inform and guide their inquiry and practice
- draw from current trends in education and apply this knowledge to enact educational change
- promote responsive, equitable, safe, and socially just educational environments
- apply best practices to meet the demands of today's varying educational contexts

The MEd program is appropriate for all aspiring leaders and includes the coursework required for PK-12 school principal certification in the state of Arizona. Coursework for an Arizona PK-12 superintendent certification is also available through the MEd program. This is a non-thesis degree which requires a minimum of 36 hours of coursework, fieldwork/internship experiences and a capstone course. The MEd coursework is aligned to the 2015 Professional Standards for Educational Leaders (PSEL) and Arizona Professional Administrative Standards (R7-2-603) and has been approved by the Arizona Department of Education as an administrative preparation program. Detailed information about PSEL (2015) can be found here. Information about the Arizona R7-2-603 can be found here.

Detailed information about the Arizona Department of Education's (ADE) certification requirements can be found at: <https://www.azed.gov/educator-certification/forms-and-information/certificates>

Getting Started Guide for MEd Graduate Students

Welcome to the Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) degree within Educational Policy Studies and Practice Department (EPSP) at The University of Arizona. We look forward to working with you as you develop theoretical, practical, and critical knowledge and skills to support your work, research, leadership, and policymaking in education.

College Leadership & Organization

The University of Arizona (UA) was established in 1885. It is the state's land-grant institution, and member of the prestigious Association of American Universities. UA is recognized as one of the nation's top-20 public Carnegie classified "R1" universities and is also one of the few universities across the country that has been designated as a Hispanic Serving Institution.

The University of Arizona is located in the borderland region of the state, and it sits on the original homelands of Indigenous peoples who have stewarded this land since time immemorial. We respectfully acknowledge the University of Arizona is on the land and territories of indigenous peoples. Today, Arizona is home to 22 federally recognized tribes, with Tucson being home to the Tohono O'odham and the Yaqui. Committed to diversity and inclusion, the University strives to build sustainable relationships with sovereign Native Nations and Indigenous communities through education, offerings, partnerships, and community service. The College of Education (COE) is committed to serving Tucson/Southern Arizona's diverse populations and fostering more equitable and inclusive communities.

The University of Arizona's College of Education was founded in 1922. The College offers a multitude of undergraduate and graduate degree programs and is the primary teacher preparation program on campus. There are four academic departments in the College of Education:

- Disability & Psychoeducational Studies
- Educational Policy Studies & Practice
- Educational Psychology
- Teaching, Learning & Sociocultural Studies

Graduate College

The Graduate College provides central support and leadership to serve, oversee, and advance all aspects of the graduate enterprise at the University of Arizona. Learn more about the Graduate College and meet the Dean of the Graduate College, Dr. Andrew Carnie here.

New and current students can find many important resources here. International students access additional resources here.

Welcome Portal & Resources

There are many entry points to engage with colleagues, courses, and scholarship here at the University of Arizona. Here are a few essential tools to get you started:

UA NetID & CatMail

Create and manage your NetID account here.

Set up and access your CatMail student email account here.

UAccess – Student Center & Administrative Systems

Use this system to maintain contact information, register for classes, pay tuition, update your GradPath file, manage student records, keep employment records, and much more. Learn more about UAccess and find IT support for use of UAccess here.

GradPath

GradPath is the Graduate College's nearly paperless degree audit process that makes tracking and monitoring student progress much easier. Students are able to fill in and submit forms online through UAccess Student Center. Find a User Guide, FAQs, and more resources here.

D2L (Desire2Learn)

D2L is the learning management system (LMS) used at the University of Arizona. Students can access course content, submit assignments, monitor grades, and more in D2L. Instructors, including Teaching Assistants (TAs), can upload materials, post discussion threads, retrieve and respond to student work, and more on this platform. Login to D2L here using your NetID. Students can locate a D2L orientation and find help resources here. Instructors orienting themselves and learning to make optimal use of D2L can find support here.

Library & Research Tools

The University of Arizona libraries offer spaces to study, experts to answer your questions, access to a wide range of technologies, and in-depth research collections. Access numerous resources for graduate students here.

Librarian Point of Contact, College of Education

Databases, Journals, & Articles

You'll need to find articles for classes and for research you are conducting. Access what you need via the library catalog or through this page that will take you to the library's databases, journals, and more.

Academic Support

Disability Resource Center (DRC)

The DRC ensures that UA curricular, workplace, physical, information, technology and policy environments are usable, welcoming, and accessible for students, employees, and guests. Learn more here.

The Graduate Center

The University of Arizona Graduate Center is a resource for graduate students and postdoctoral scholars. The Graduate Center offers a calendar of events, including professional development workshops, as well as writing, and career support. Learn more here.

The Think Tank Writing Center

The Think Tank Writing Center offers a variety of services including free and fee-based appointments, workshops, and events. Emphasizing peer collaboration, the Think Tank Writing Center helps each writer grow over the course of their career at the University of Arizona. Learn more here.

Registration & Enrollment

Class Registration

Find all of the resources needed to self-register for courses including academic calendars, registration details, and related items from the Office of the Registrar here. When ready, register for classes (or check on enrollment status and make changes to registration) via UAccess here.

Change of Schedule (Drop/Add)

Information regarding registration and/or changes using a Change of Schedule (Drop/Add) process is provided below. Typically, most changes can be made through UAccess Student Center until a specified date. The change of schedule process is for exceptions and those enrollment requests that need approval of an instructor and/or College or academic unit. Learn more here. For more specific details specific to graduate students, check here.

Enrollment Policies

Find details about full-time graduate student status requirements here. Specific requirements for international students can be found on this page.

Continuous Enrollment for Graduate Students Policy

Requesting Graduate Leave of Absence

A student admitted to a master's, or a doctoral program must register each fall and spring semester for a minimum of 1 graduate unit, from original matriculation until all course and thesis/dissertation requirements are met. Unless excused by an official graduate Leave of Absence (which may not exceed one year throughout the student's degree program), all graduate students are subject to the Continuous Enrollment Policy. If the student fails to obtain a Leave of Absence or maintain continuous enrollment, he or she will be required to apply for re-admission and to pay the Graduate College application fee. There is no guarantee of re-admission. Access the Leave of Absence Policy from the Graduate Catalog and links to graduate petitions for leave on this page.

Special Course Enrollment

Independent Study

Independent study courses may be offered in unique circumstances with direct coordination and prior consent of the student's advisor. Independent study courses should not be used in place of core coursework. Coursework credits earned using the independent study option should not exceed 15% of the total academic unit requirement for the student's degree program. More information about the guidelines for independent study courses can be found here. A proposal form must be approved by the Project Advisor (Instructor) and submitted to the Graduate Student Coordinator, Erika Lopez, prior to enrolling in any independent study courses.

Financial Aid, Tuition & Fees

Financial Aid

Students inquiring about financial assistance should access the University of Arizona Scholarships & Financial Aid webpage here. This link includes information about completing the FAFSA and accessing Scholarship Universe. Students should also explore Graduate student funding opportunities here and also visit the College of Education's Financial Aid pages here and here. Students requesting EDLP funds should contact the Interim Graduate Coordinator. Note EDLP funds are limited and not guaranteed. Prior to requesting any EDLP tuition supports, students should have completed a FAFSA for that academic year and should be actively seeking other funding options.

Tuition & Fees

Find all details on tuition and fees on this page.

iCourse Fees

An iCourse fee is a special class fee that covers the cost of technology and academic and student services related to online instruction. Online instruction requires increased space on computer servers, increased 24/7 tech support, and enhanced electronic learning tools. As more courses are available online, special online tutoring will become available and will be paid by this fee. The iCourse fee is $50 and covers the cost of courses taught online in traditional, on-campus degree programs.

A $50 iCourse fee will only apply to students enrolling in Fully Online sections of a course. This fee does not apply to in-person or hybrid sections of courses, or for students in fully online programs. Please check the Schedule of Classes for up-to-date information on the mode of instruction for individual sections of courses as offerings may change from semester to semester.

Payment of Tuition and Fees

Obligation to Pay Tuition & Fees

All payments for tuition must be received in the Bursar's Office by each semester's tuition payment deadline. Payments received after the deadline, regardless of the postmark date, are considered late and are subject to late charges. If a student registers for additional courses after Account Statements have been mailed, a new account statement will not be sent prior to the Tuition Payment Deadline. Get all of the details here.

Financial Aid Payments

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid will automatically disburse aid to student accounts no sooner than 10 days prior to the start of the semester, as long as the student has met all financial aid disbursement requirements. Learn more here.

Tuition payment plan: Installments

Offered for the Fall and Spring semesters only. All tuition, program fees/differential tuition, fees and course fees are split into three (3) installments. There is a $75.00 per semester non-refundable enrollment fee for this service. Students must enroll prior to the tuition payment deadline to avoid the late payment charge. Find all details here.

Fees and Costs of Cancelling Your Registration

To be eligible for a refund of tuition, program fees and fees, students must drop courses or withdraw from the University by the specified refund dates. Tuition and fees will not be recalculated or reversed after the refund deadline. Students are responsible for all tuition and fees remaining on their account. Learn more here.

Late Payment Charges

Payment for tuition must be received by the tuition payment deadline each semester to avoid a $50 late payment charge. The full tuition amount for anticipated enrollment must be paid by the deadline, even if the student is not completely registered, to avoid this charge. This late charge applies to all accounts with unpaid fees (i.e., registration, increase in units, special course fees).

On the 22nd calendar day following the tuition payment deadline, any student with unpaid tuition, fees, and course fees, or who hasn't paid their 1st installment of the tuition payment plan, will be charged a $125.00 unpaid tuition charge. To avoid the $125.00 unpaid tuition charge, tuition and fees must be paid prior to this date.

Lack of funds mailed payment postmark dates, non-receipt of Account Statements, and other personal reasons for delayed payment will not be considered. Outstanding tuition notifications are sent via email to the student's official University email address. Students should check their account balance on UAccess each time they change their registration.

More details on all of this can be found here.

GPSC Travel Grants

The GPSC awards grants for graduate and professional student travel for professional development purposes. Applications for domestic travel may receive up to $750. Applications for international travel may receive up to $1000. Applicants for Virtual Conferences may receive up to $750. Event types covered by the grant include but are not limited to:

- Travel to attend/present at academic or professional conferences
- Travel to conduct fieldwork or research
- Travel to participate in summer schools or workshops
- Travel to participate in practicums, internships, or other types of experiential learning
- Travel for a job interview or campus visit
- Travel for study abroad or international study

Find the application and additional details on this page.

Professional Opportunities Development Funding

The GPSC recognizes that graduate and professional student education is advanced by events promoting the development of skills necessary to succeed in their fields of study. Therefore, the GPSC strives to support professional development initiatives of graduate and professional students through Professional Opportunity Development (POD) Funding.

Such initiatives and events include, but are not necessarily limited to, academic seminars, conferences, meetings with industry representatives, etc. which are occurring at the University of Arizona. Any group of at least three graduate and/or professional students can apply to the GPSC for funding to support a POD event they are directly involved in planning. The maximum award for POD Funding is $1,500 per application to be used within six (6) months of receiving funding. Find all details here.

College of Education Conference/Travel Support Grants

Graduate students enrolled part-time or full time in College of Education majors may be eligible for support funds to participate in professional conferences. Find details here.

Academic Policies

Academic Integrity

All members of the University of Arizona community have a responsibility to uphold and maintain an honest academic environment by following the University's Code of Academic Integrity. As a community of scholars, integrity should guide conduct and decisions related to academic work and all credit bearing classes, including traditional, non-traditional, and online courses. Find details here.

Code of Academic Integrity

Integrity and ethical behavior are expected of every student in all academic work. This Academic Integrity principle stands for honesty in all class work, and ethical conduct in all labs and clinical assignments. Read the full Code here, including a list of prohibited conduct, student and faculty responsibilities, and procedures for violation of the Code of Academic Integrity.

Academic Integrity Sanctions

All students who are reported to the Dean of Students Office for violation of the University's Code of Academic Integrity are required to attend an Academic Integrity Workshop. This 2.5-hour educational workshop reviews the University's Code of Academic Integrity and includes discussion of ethics and integrity. The cost of the workshop is $50 which is assessed to the student's Bursars account. Additionally, instructors will assign one or more of the sanction(s) on this list for the violation.

Responding to a Violation / Grievance Procedures

Students have rights and responsibilities, including filing a Request to Appeal. Learn more here.

Scholastic Requirements

Students in the EDLP programs must earn at least a B in each required course, stay continuously enrolled, and be seen by their faculty advisor and the EDLP faculty, as a whole, as making adequate progress annually toward their degree. Reviews of students' progress are conducted annually, toward the end of the spring semester.

APA & Reference Document Style

The Educational Leadership and Policy Program uses the American Psychological Association (APA) style manual. Ensure that you are using the most current style manual for your work (7th edition). Access the OWL APA guide at Purdue University or the APA Quick Citation Guide from Penn State to review APA style requirements. There are additional resources online to help with APA citations and styling. You can also purchase the APA manual.

American Psychological Association. (2020). Publication manual of the American Psychological Association (7th ed.). <https://doi.org/10.1037/0000165-000>

Research and Data Ethics

Introduction

The EDLP program follows the research guidelines set forth by the University of Arizona. To learn more, visit the University of Arizona Research website here. Learn more about research opportunities for students here.

Human Subjects Protection Program (HSPP)

Training is required for UA Faculty, Staff and Students who are conducting human research at the University of Arizona. Training must be conducted through the CITI training program. Find details here.

Collaborative Institutional Training Initiative (CITI) Training

Federal regulations require that key personnel in research involving human subjects undergo training. Key personnel are all individuals responsible for the design and conduct of the study. All members of the research team are expected to complete online training prior to conducting any activities involving human subjects research. The IRB will not approve protocols in which study personnel do not have current, completed University of Arizona CITI human subjects training. Find details here.

Responsible Conduct of Research Program

Fostering a culture and expectation of responsible and ethical conduct of research is a critical component in the advancement of knowledge through research and scholarship. It is also a key element in the maintenance of public trust in the research enterprise. Given that ethical issues emerge when conducting research and scholarship across disciplines of all kinds, UA is committed to providing high quality instruction in responsible conduct of research to the entire campus community. Find details, including multiple links to resources, trainings, and forms here.

Conflict of Interest

The Conflict of Interest Program (COIP) supports and promotes The University of Arizona's ethical conduct of research. In collaboration with the Institutional Review Committee and the Executive Review Committee, the Conflict of Interest Program works with The University of Arizona's research community who are engaged in external relationships to ensure that all identified financial conflicts of interest or institutional conflicts of interest are appropriately managed, reduced, or eliminated. Find required trainings, disclosure processes, and other details here.

Human Subjects Protection Program & IRB

The Human Subjects Protection Program (HSPP), as the administrative and regulatory support program to the Institutional Review Boards (IRBs), works in collaboration with the research community to maintain an ethical and compliant research program. The IRBs are the independent review committee charged with the protection of human research subjects. An IRB must review all research and related activities involving human subjects conducted at the University of Arizona or by in which the University is a responsible participant. Link to all necessary information and forms here.

Graduate Student Advising

Degree Plans

A graduate student must file a degree plan on GradPath which includes those courses to be applied toward a particular degree and formally establishes the advisory committee. Masters' students in EDLP must file their degree plan during the semester in which they are enrolled in their 6th credit hour. Working closely with their academic advisor, students will file their Plan of Study using GradPath.

Advising

Working Effectively with Your Advisor

Establishing a positive working relationship with your advisor is important to your success in the EDLP program. Setting up guidelines for regular communication and check-in meetings can be a very helpful start to working effectively with your advisor.

Changing Advisors

Incoming students are assigned a faculty advisor by the EDLP program. At the master's degree level, your assigned advisor will work with you for the duration of your program.

GradPath for Master's Students

1. Responsible Conduct of Research Form
2. Plan of Study
3. Master's Committee Appointment Form *see info below
4. Master's Completion Confirmation

Your plan of study is generally submitted in the second semester of your program. When a Plan of Study is submitted in GradPath, your Advisor must complete the research compliance acknowledgement section on the form. Students should ensure that their correct completion date is listed when submitting the plan of study. The degree will not post, nor will a graduation diploma be issued if the completion date in GradPath does not match the term when required coursework is completed.

Master's students who are not completing a thesis are not required to report a committee to the Graduate College but must still complete the Master's/Specialist Committee Appointment form in GradPath to confirm their advisor. MEd students are not required to complete a thesis but should list their advisor (Dr. Meg Cota) when completing this form.

The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) Degree Program

Degree Requirements and Sequencing

Course formats are varied within the program track. These formats can include in-person, flex in-person (hybrid of in-person and on-line instruction) and in occasional on-line courses. The MEd degree is not a fully on-line, remote program; most course sessions are held on the university's main Tucson campus. Courses are offered in the evenings to support working adults. The traditional sequence for the MEd degree follows a cohort-based model with courses offered during the academic year and in the summer. Students following the traditional sequence attend on a part-time basis. Students who wish to attend full time can opt to take additional coursework on a course/space-available basis following the plan of study developed for them by their advisor.

The Master of Educational Leadership (MEd) program consists of 12 courses (36 credit hours), including an internship (3 credit hours) and a capstone project (3 credit hours). This coursework satisfies the academic requirements for school principal certification in Arizona, and the program of study is usually completed in two years.

Required Core (21 credit hours)

- EDL 560: Trends in Educational Leadership
- EDL 561: The Principalship
- EDL 562: Arizona Education Law
- EDL 563: Supervision of the Instructional Program
- EDL 565: School Finance
- EDL 568: Curriculum Leadership and Data Literacy for Continuous School Improvement
- EDL 593A: Principal Internship*

Required Research Courses (6 credit hours)

- EDL 504: Disciplined Inquiry in Education
- EDL 598: Problems in Educational Leadership: Capstone Experience

Required Electives (9 credit hours)

- EDL 567: School, Family and Community Relations
- EDL 602: Culturally Responsive Leadership and Policy
- EDL 604: Leadership for Educational Change

 An internship is required for degree-seeking students of the MEd program. EDL 593B (Superintendent Internship) or EDL 593C (Leadership Internship) may be substituted with permission. Non-degree seeking students or students seeking a principal or superintendent certification only, should work with their advisor to determine the course requirements for their plan of study.*

Course Sequence*

Fall, Year One (6 units)

- EDL 560: Trends in Educational Leadership
- EDL 562: Arizona Education Law

Spring, Year One (6 units)

- EDL 561: The Principalship
- EDL 563: Supervision of the Instructional Program

Summer, Year One (12 units)

- EDL 565: School Finance
- EDL 567: School, Family and Community Relations
- EDL 568: Curriculum Leadership and Data Literacy for Continuous School Improvement
- EDL 602: Culturally Responsive Leadership and Policy

Fall, Year Two (6 units)

- EDL 504: Disciplined Inquiry in Education
- EDL 593A: Internship

Spring, Year Two (6 units)

- EDL 598: Problems in Educational Leadership: Capstone Experience
- EDL 604: Leadership for Educational Change

 Upon applying to the program, an individual plan of study will be developed for you by the MEd Advisor, Dr. Meg Cota. It is recommended that you follow the sequence listed above, however in some situations, slight modifications to the sequence may be possible. Close coordination with Dr. Cota is required for any modifications to ensure your smooth progression through your program.*

Program Milestones

The MEd program has three milestones:

- Milestone #1: (Core Coursework Completion) The first year of the M.Ed. program provides opportunities for students to begin developing and applying their leadership knowledge and skills. Students should demonstrate they are adequately progressing in their plan of study and early fieldwork experiences. Adequate progress includes continuous enrollment and attendance, regular contact with your advisor, and a GPA of 3.0 or above.
- Milestone #2: (Internship Experience) In year two of the program, students are immersed in practical leadership development opportunities as interns. Through their internships, students will have realistic field experiences during which they apply their developing knowledge and skills in practical settings as they work collaboratively with their supervising mentor to assume the role of the organizational leader. Milestone #2 reflects the successful completion of all internships related requirements (e.g., hours, documents, narratives, logs, projects, etc.).
- Milestone #3: (Capstone project) The capstone project is a culminating professional experience for the MEd degree program. It represents the analysis of practical problems in educational administration. For this last milestone, students will demonstrate their understanding of research and theory through an action research project.

Program Options

Principal and Superintendent Certification-Only Coursework

The MEd program at the University of Arizona also offers certification-only options for students who have already obtained a master's level degree and wish to pursue their certification as a Pk-12 principal and/or superintendent. Students who are interested in this option should work with the MEd program coordinator directly. The MEd program coordinator will create an individualized plan of study that maps out the required coursework to satisfy the certification requirements of the Arizona

Department of Education (ADE). Required coursework can vary by student. Students who select this option will enroll as non-degree seeking students through the Graduate College. Information about the Graduate Office can be found here. More information about Arizona state requirements for the principal and superintendent certifications can be found here.

Sequencing for Certification-Only Programs (for non-degree seeking students)

Principal certification-only option:*

- Generally, consists of 8-10 EDL courses (30 credit hours).
- Students generally follow the traditional program sequence of courses, with the exception of EDL 504 and EDL 598, which are not required for certification-only students.
- A review of previous academic transcripts is used to determine the exact number of courses you must take to satisfy the certification requirements.
- The MEd Advisor, Dr. Cota, will use this review to map out an individual plan of study.
- Each plan of study will be mapped out to reflect the most current certification requirements available at the time of enrollment. Please note that certification requirements are subject to change by the Arizona Department of Education and can result in changes to the original plan of study provided.

Superintendent certification-only option:*

- Consists of at a minimum, five (5) EDL courses (10 credit hours).
 - EDL 682 – The Superintendency (3 credit hours)
 - EDL 593B – The Superintendent Internship (5 credit hours)
 - EDL 696 – Topics in Educational Leadership (2 credit hours)
- The Arizona Department of Education requires at least 60 graduate level semester hours with 36 hours specific to educational leadership coursework. These hours must include a course on the role of the superintendent, the superintendent internship, and coursework focusing on education law and school finance.
- Most students seeking this certification have already completed some graduate level coursework and are currently working in a school/district level administrative role. A review of previous academic transcripts and employment history is used to determine the exact number of courses students must take to satisfy their superintendent certification requirements.
- The MEd Advisor, Dr. Cota, will use this review to map out an individual plan of study.
- EDL 682 (The Superintendency) course is offered each summer. EDL 593B (The Superintendent Internship) and EDL 696 (Topics in Educational Leadership) are offered in fall and spring of each year.
- Additional coursework can be added in spring, summer, and/or fall terms if required.
- Each plan of study will be mapped out to reflect the most current certification requirements available at the time of enrollment. Please note that certification requirements are subject to change by the Arizona Department of Education and can result in changes to the original plan of study provided.
- Internships for superintendent certifications must be completed in Arizona school districts.
- In person attendance is required for these courses.

University of Arizona PhD students may incorporate certification-only coursework into their studies with prior consent from their doctoral advisor and in collaboration with Dr. Cota.*

Institutional Recommendation (IR)

MEd students (both degree-seeking and non-degree seeking) who plan on applying for their principal or superintendent certification can request an Institutional Recommendation (IR) from the University of Arizona. The IR verifies that you have completed a certification program and that all of the coursework requirements for administrative certification have been met. Students who fail to complete the courses listed in their individual plan of study (developed by the MEd Advisor) will not be eligible to receive the Institutional Recommendation. The IR allows the applicant to pay a reduced certification service fee and qualify for faster processing of their desired certificate. The IR should be requested in the last semester of required coursework. The IR will not automatically be issued; it must be requested by the student. Students who are enrolled as non-degree seeking (certification-only) will also need to submit official transcripts of their most recent degree with their IR request. The IR can be requested here.

Course Descriptions

EDL 504 Disciplined Inquiry in Education

Introduction to research methods in education: analysis of research; writing of research reviews; applying research results in educational settings. Students will learn the basic tools of quantitative and qualitative methods of research, critical analysis of peer-refereed journals, and careful and systematic investigation of educational phenomena. This course will also prepare students and is a pre-requisite for EDL 598 (Capstone Experience), a course which is offered the following term.

EDL 560 Trends in Educational Leadership

This course is an introduction to the foundations of educational administration and leadership. An open social-systems model of schools provides the theoretical framework that organizes and relates this theory and research to educational administration practice. There will be strong emphasis on problem-based learning through case studies and simulations.

EDL 561 The Principalship

This course examines the functions and responsibilities of the school principal, including the political, social, and human relations dimensions of the role. School leadership encompasses the wide range of job activities engaged in by educational administrators as they work collaboratively with teachers, school families, support staff, other administrators, and students to ensure all students learn. This course focuses on issues that include leadership responsibilities, issues, duties, and activities at the overall school level and beyond.

EDL 562 Arizona Education Law

This course is a master's level survey of sample Arizona statutes, legal codes, and cases that pertain to school policies, with a focus on practical knowledge at the building level. Students will study relevant legal issues as well as learn about the legal rights and responsibilities of students, teachers, and administrators within our educational system in Arizona.

EDL 563 Supervision of the Instructional Program

This course is designed to examine the application of current supervisory theory in the school and/or district setting. An emphasis will be placed on understanding the role and purpose of instructional supervision, building supervisory skills and competencies, and the application of supervisory tasks (e.g., direct assistance, coaching, mentoring and professional development) to improve classroom instruction.

EDL 565 School Finance

Students will explore the policies and procedures common to many school districts in the area of school finance. This is a master's level course designed to introduce the student to the basics of school finance at both the local (school) and district levels, specific to the laws and regulations of the state of Arizona. The course will include a historical background of the financing of education in the United States, with special attention to sources and distribution of funds for education, budgeting, accounting, and reporting.

EDL 567 School, Family and Community Relations

This course is designed to provide a critical overview of the purposes of education and the changing historical, social, and cultural contexts of schooling in the United States, with emphasis on how school leaders can develop, engage in, and sustain relationships between schools, families, and communities. In it, we will address issues of demographic differences and complexity in schools and neighborhoods as embedded within multiple contexts, replete with challenges and contestations. The course aims to provide you with knowledge(s), resources, and strategies upon which you can draw to envision, create, and participate in collaborations between schools, families, neighborhoods, businesses, and larger communities.

EDL 568 Curriculum Leadership and Data Literacy for Continuous School Improvement

The purpose of this course is to examine curricular leadership for continuous school improvement, particularly in turnaround contexts. Students will read research on turnaround leadership and school improvement processes from local, national, and international studies. Further, this course will provide students with practical, research-based strategies to support school development and turnaround, including data literacy, common core implementation, and building school-wide capacity through professional learning communities.

EDL 593A The Principal Internship

This course entails practical experiences in a leadership role at the school and/or district site. Interns will experience what it is like to assume the role of principal/ superintendent and will become immersed in the role. Experiences in all phases of school and/or district life will be included. Interns will collaboratively plan those experiences with their on-site mentor. Substantial and significant amounts of time devoted to the internship experiences will provide a more realistic experience for interns. This course will constitute the total 240 hours, minimally required for the internship (practicum) experience. Enrollment permissions are required.

EDL 593B The Superintendent Internship

This course entails practical experiences in a leadership role at the school site. Interns will experience what it is like to assume the role of superintendent and will become immersed in the role. Experiences in all phases of district life will be included. Interns will collaboratively plan those experiences with their on-site mentor. Substantial and significant amounts of time devoted to the internship experiences will provide a more realistic experience for interns. This course will constitute the total 270 hours, minimally required for the internship (practicum) experience. EDL 682 is a pre-requisite for this course. Students will enroll in two semesters of this course. Enrollment permissions are required.

EDL 593C Leadership Internship-non certification

This course entails practical experiences in a leadership role and is the culmination of the Master of Education in Educational Leadership. Interns will experience what it is like to assume the role of the organizational leader and will become immersed in the role. Experiences in all phases of organizational life will be included. Interns will collaboratively plan those experiences with their on-site mentor. Substantial and significant amounts of time devoted to the internship experiences will provide a more realistic experience for interns. This course will constitute the total 240 hours, minimally required for the internship (practicum). Enrollment permissions are required.

EDL 598 Problems in Educational Leadership: Capstone Experience

This course entails the development of an action research project for analysis of practical problems in educational administration. Students will apply theory and research methodologies to problems in education. Pre-requisite: EDL 504

EDL 602 Culturally Responsive Leadership and Policy

The purpose of this class is to examine culturally responsive leadership in school contexts through a strong theoretical and research framework. The course will provide aspiring leaders with the guidance to lead, organize and support their schools to effectively serve linguistically and culturally diverse students in a rich and challenging learning environment, ensuring that students are socio-culturally integrated.

EDL 604 Leadership for Educational Change

Change is a critical component in any American educational organization. Understanding the need for change, the nature of change, the change process, creating a culture for change, and the research on change provides a leader with tools to be more effective in dealing with change within their organizations. The purpose of this course is to explore a variety of models and tools for transforming our schools, to include investigating the characteristics of leadership as they apply to changing basic educational organizational structures and processes.

EDL 682 The Superintendency

This course examines the functions and responsibilities of the chief executive of a school district. The role of Superintendent is viewed through three lenses: Knowledge Curator, Leader of Learning and Organizational Guru. Students will explore the functions of the superintendent in each of these areas and analyze these functions as they apply to rural, urban, and suburban communities. The most recent research on the impact of Superintendent leadership as well as scholarly writings and research from many well-known educators are incorporated into the course. This is the pre-requisite course for EDL 593B, offered the following term. Enrollment permissions are required.

EDL 696 Topics in Educational Leadership

The topics for this course can vary depending on the instructor. For the superintendent certification students, this course will focus on identifying and discussing current trends in educational organizations and how these impact district leadership. Leadership theory and application to practice will be embedded in each course session. Enrollment permissions are required.
