IMPORTANT COVID-19 NOTICE

Please note that since March of 2020, Covid 19 has precipitated ongoing changes to field placement in K-12 school settings in Tucson, greater Arizona, and throughout our national and international educational community. As such, these changes are not addressed in this guidebook and will be addressed in ongoing communiques sent to student teachers via emails. When necessary, additional signed paperwork may be required by the University of Arizona for participation in both in-person and remote teaching, if remote teaching becomes necessary. Student teachers are responsible to monitor their UArizona email accounts to stay current on any and all Covid-19 and/or other pandemic related information and requirements.

The University of Arizona

Teacher Preparation Programs Professional Standards

The University of Arizona has a responsibility to the educational community to ensure that individuals who are recommended to the State of Arizona for teaching certification merit acceptance into the teaching profession. As a student in a University of Arizona teacher preparation program, you are expected to meet a number of professional standards, policies and requirements.

Academic Standards

The Arizona State Board of Education has adopted the InTASC and ISTE NETS-T standards for teachers.

- InTASC Standards (<https://www.coe.arizona.edu/substandards>)
- ISTE NETS-T Standards (https://id.iste.org/docs/pdfs/20-14_ISTE_Standards-T_PDF.pdf).

All University of Arizona certification programs have aligned their curricula and assessments to these standards. Throughout your teacher preparation program, there will be a series of benchmark assignments, including the capstone experience of student teaching, to assess your progress towards meeting them.

Behavior Standards

You are expected to behave professionally during the program, both as a student and a teacher, while on the UA campus and school district campuses. There are three categories of behavior standards to which you must adhere:

- State of Arizona Standards:
 - Arizona State Board of Education Professional Practices for Certificate Holders
- University of Arizona Standards:
 - ABOR Student Code of Conduct (<https://public.azregents.edu/Policy%20Manual/5-308-Student%20Code%20of%20Conduct.pdf>)
 - Threatening Behavior Policy (<http://policy.arizona.edu/education-and-student-affairs/threatening-behavior-students>)
 - Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy (<http://policy.arizona.edu/human-resources/nondiscrimination-and-anti-harassment-policy>)
 - Code of Academic Integrity (<http://deanofstudents.arizona.edu/policies-and-codes/code-academic-integrity>)
 - Professional Expectations for UA Teacher Candidates
- School District Standards:
 - District codes of conduct for faculty and staff

Knowledge of the Standards

You are required to review the aforementioned academic and behavior standards:

- The InTASC and ISTE NETS-T Standards are available at the links provided above.
- Copies of the Arizona State Board of Education Professional Practices for Certificate Holders will be distributed and discussed at the outset of the program.
- The University of Arizona standards for behavior (ABOR Student Code of Conduct, Threatening Behavior Policy, Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy, Code of Academic Integrity) are available at the links provided above.
- The Professional Expectations for UA Teacher Candidates will be distributed and discussed at the outset of the program.
- School District codes of conduct for faculty and staff must be obtained from your assigned school or district.

Adherence to Standards

Successful completion of the teacher preparation program is dependent upon a student's ability to meet the academic and behavior standards. If a student's performance raises concerns about their ability to successfully complete the program, university or field-based professional educators in the program may initiate a Performance Concern Form. Depending on the seriousness of the issue, the student may be placed on a Professional Growth Plan, which identifies the steps for remediation, provides support, and establishes expectations that must be met. Possible consequences for not meeting the expectations in the Professional Growth Plan include removal from a course or clinical placement, a failing grade in a course, withdrawal from the teacher preparation program with the right to petition for readmission, or dismissal from the teacher preparation program. It is important to note that alleged violations of the ABOR Student Code of Conduct or the Code of Academic Integrity may lead to immediate removal from a course or field placement pending review. Alleged violations of the ABOR Student Code of Conduct will also be referred to the UA Dean of Students Office.

Department of Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies
Position Statement on Social Justice

Adopted March 25, 2014

The members of the TLSS community are committed to providing equal opportunity and nurturing an academic climate dedicated to social justice.

Injustice takes many forms. Oppressive acts are sometimes overt, but most are subtle, and are difficult to document. These hidden forms of discrimination are identified in the literature as microaggressions, often resulting from unexamined attitudes and beliefs. Macroaggressions are expressions of both the overt and systemic forms of injustice.

Our commitment to social justice reflects an orientation to our goals and practices in education and ultimately, an orientation to life that values a diversity and inclusion of viewpoints and experiences of all people as valuable contributors to the experience of schooling and society. This stance recognizes that individuals bring a variety of linguistic, social, and cognitive strengths from their families and communities into the classroom; we view these strengths as assets.

- We value and honor human diversity.
- We recognize that all relationships include dynamics of power. We are committed to relating to each other with conscious awareness and sensitivity to these power dynamics.
- We pledge to contribute to expanding the linguistic and cognitive strengths that learners possess and bring with them to the classroom.
- We understand that systemic policies, traditions, and laws along with personal beliefs, experiences and attitudes affect personal relationships and equitable treatment and opportunity for all.
- We strive to provide a context where we all have the venue, the opportunity, and the confidence to express our experiences and that these experiences will be heard constructively, critically, and with sensitivity.
- Hence, we are not color blind. We will not erase who someone is in the name of equality, nor deny the historical, material and emotional impacts of racialized and gendered identities, and colonial legacies.

We stand alongside and speak out with our colleagues, staff, students, and community members when any of us or others experience micro- or macroaggressions.

We recognize that those of us who enjoy privileged status due to our racialized, gendered, heteronormative, or otherwise privileged aspects of our identities may be unaware of the ways this privileged status marginalizes others. We pledge to listen to our colleagues, students, staff, and community members when any of us or others make efforts to remain diligent in maintaining awareness of micro, macroaggressions, and raise our awareness around issues of invisibility, marginalization, normativity, power, and privilege.

We view these goals as both crucial and ambitious. The entrenched nature of oppression requires both institutional restructuring and new social discourses. Therefore, our stance on disrupting existing and persisting inequities requires attention to micro and macro level interactions. Every interaction is an opportunity for disrupting processes of marginalization, whether overt or subtle, both through person-to-person exchange and through resisting oppressive structures and systems. We commit to holding one another and ourselves accountable, through our research and practice, to rejecting entrenched inequalities, and to cultivating new discourses as groundwork for imagining new social worlds.

UNITED STATES AND STATE OF ARIZONA TEACHER CANDIDATE RESPONSIBILITIES

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) Highlights

- Parents and students over age 18 have a right to review educational records of their children and may seek to amend the record if they believe the record to be inaccurate.
- Schools must transfer records when students transfer.
- Without consent of the parent or eligible student, education records can be disclosed to school officials designated as having “legitimate educational interest.” (to perform education, to provide services, etc.)
- Under FERPA, disclosure of educational information to an individual or agency outside the school, school district, or state education agency – a third party – is generally NOT allowed without prior consent of a parent. This includes conversations.

Mandatory Reporting

Under A.R. S. 13-3620 a school employee may be subject to a class six felony criminal charge for failing to make a mandatory report concerning child abuse, neglect, and “reportable sex offense.” Any district employee who “reasonably believes that a minor is or has been the victim of physical injury, abuse, a reportable offense or neglect that has been inflicted on the minor by other than accidental means...shall immediately report or cause reports to be made of this information to the peace officer or to CPS except when the abuser is known to be someone other than a parent, guardian, or custodian, reports shall be made to law enforcement only...”

The standard for making reports pursuant to A.R.S. 13-3620 is a “reasonable belief.” This means “if there are any facts from which one could reasonably conclude that a child has been abused, the person knowing those facts is required to report those facts.

Reports required of this statute should be made to either the local law enforcement agency (911) or child protective services (1-888-SOS-CHILD). Generally, if the suspected abuse is committed by a family member or legal guardian, the report should be made to child protective services. All other reports should be made to law enforcement.

A child may self-report the information. Read these important notes should a child self-report to you.

- Do not interview the child. Multiple interviews of a child must be avoided. Let law enforcement interview the child.
- Only ask the child the following questions. What happened? Who did it? Where did it happen?
- One sentence of information from a child may be enough to trigger the reporting statute.
- Document child’s exact words on the reporting form.

When should the report be made? The suspected abuse should immediately be reported to appropriate authorities either in person or by telephone. Second, the statute requires that this be followed by a written report within seventy-two hours. (Keep copious notes about your reporting!)

1. You may not discuss the educational records, standing, status, or even darling anecdote of a student or students with whom you work with anyone if you use a name or any other identifying information that could link the information with that particular student. To be safe, keep all information confidential. This includes not sharing information with roommates, family members, etc.
e.g. Okay to share – I once worked with a student who had dyslexia.
Not okay – One of my students sees a speech therapist for dysfluency.
(Note: It is likely easy to know which student of yours stutters when speaking or leaves the room with the speech pathologist. The person with whom you speak may speak to someone who knows that child in your class.)
2. You can share educational records of your students with other educators at the site on an as needed basis when there is a legitimate purpose. (E.g. The counselor may need to know how a particular child is doing academically or socially.)

This is scary responsibility because you have the power to save students from harm. Note that failure to follow this law could affect your teacher certification status.

1. If you have “reasonable belief” a student, who is a minor, has been a victim of physical injury or abuse or neglect it is YOUR responsibility to report that suspicion to law enforcement. Know that the standard of “reasonable belief” is lower than the standard for “beyond a reasonable doubt” required in trials.
If you simply tell your mentor teacher or the administrator, your responsibility IS NOT relinquished. If it is your suspicion, it is your responsibility to call 911 or Child Protective Services at 1-888-SOS-CHILD. It is, however, a good idea to let your mentor teacher and school administrator know you made this call.
2. REMEMBER: Don’t interview the student with probing questions that could interfere with the investigation. One sentence from a child may be enough to establish a reasonable belief.
You are not a trained investigator. See questions below that you are allowed to ask. Do not ask third parties any questions. Do not speak with the accused. Only ask the questions if the student doesn’t spontaneously volunteer the information. Resist the urge to ask more questions.
Q1 what happened to you?
Q2 Who did this?
Q3 where did it happen?

DISCLOSURE: INSURANCE COVERAGE FOR UNIVERSITY INTERNSHIPS FOR CREDIT

INTRODUCTION

This document is prepared to provide guidance to students and academic programs regarding the types of insurance coverage available to students enrolled in university internship opportunities. The University of Arizona participates in a statutory program of insurance administered by the Arizona Department of Administration, Risk Management Division, as authorized in Arizona Revised Statutes §41-621 et seq. Insurance coverage described herein is governed by the provisions outlined in this statutory insurance program.

WHAT ARE INTERNSHIPS?

An internship is a guided learning experience offered by an organization with the student's academic program and preparation for future employment in mind. An internship is a temporary practical assignment, usually lasting only 1-2 academic terms, with no guarantee of ongoing or future employment. To award credit for internships, academic departments require academic assignments, assess learning, and determine whether/how much academic credit is due. Students must coordinate with the designated individual within their academic department to determine if the internship will be eligible for academic course credit, and what documentation will be required to support award of credit. The nature of the for-credit internship, and the arrangement in place between the UA and the training site will also influence the availability of one or more types of insurance coverage listed below.

INTERNSHIP DOCUMENTATION

Insurance coverage for university internships for credit may be applicable if there is written approval from the academic advisor or faculty member that documents a connection between the training opportunity and the student's academic program curriculum. The University of Arizona recommends that this approval be documented by the UA Student Intern Work Plan form and include acknowledgement by the student of receipt of this insurance disclosure.

A training affiliation agreement between the UA and the training site is the preferred method to document an ongoing relationship, and establish the responsibilities of all parties, when the training site does not consider student interns to be employees of their organization.

Affiliation agreements specify which party provides insurance coverage, and the type and extent of that coverage. If there is an expectation that an internship relationship with a training site will be continuing, and the site does not consider interns to be employees of the organization, the academic program should consider formalizing an affiliation agreement with the training organization. Contact Sponsored Projects and Contracting Services or Arizona Health Sciences Contracting for guidance.

If there is no written approval documentation establishing a UA connection to the internship or training activity as a part of the student's academic program, such as the UA Student Intern Work Plan form, UA insurance is NOT APPLICABLE to that activity. In such cases, the student participant assumes all risk of participation.

TYPES OF INSURANCE

Several types of insurance may be applicable to an internship opportunity. These are listed and discussed in detail below:

Liability Insurance (General and Professional Liability) – This coverage insures an individual or an organization against claims alleged to be the result of negligent acts or omissions. An intern, acting in the course of their authorized duties, is insured by the State of Arizona for liability claims that allege injury or harm caused by the negligence of the intern. Liability insurance pays for legal counsel to defend that claim, and pays damages awarded to the claimant either through settlement or jury award if the case goes to trial. The statutory insurance program described above covers both general and professional liability.

Workers' Compensation – This insurance covers on-the-job injuries to employees, including authorized medical treatment expenses and lost wages if the injury requires missing work. If an internship training site hires a student intern as an employee, then that employer is responsible for providing worker's compensation coverage. Occasionally, an affiliation agreement requires the UA to provide workers' compensation coverage for interns who are neither employees of the UA nor the internship training site. UA Risk Management Services has collaborated with the Arizona Department of Administration, Risk Management Division, to provide this coverage on an extent required basis. Please contact UA Risk Management Services for guidance regarding UA/State of Arizona provided workers' compensation insurance for student interns.

International Insurance – University insurance covers international travel only when it is conducted as a part of official university business. University processes for travel authorization and itinerary registration must be followed to identify the travel as having an official UA purpose, and to ensure rapid access to insurance and assistance if needed while abroad. Most internship experiences are not considered university business. Students registered for Study Abroad units are automatically enrolled in an international insurance program that provides emergency medical care, emergency evacuation, etc. All other students interning internationally are responsible for their own travel and emergency coverage. Contact UA Study Abroad for guidance.

Health Insurance – University students are expected to arrange for their own health insurance through Campus Health, through a family relationship, or directly from a health insurance provider. UA Risk Management Services (RMS) coordinates university insurance coverage with the State of Arizona, and can assist university departments with coverage questions, and determining which type of insurance is applicable to a particular situation. Contact RMS at 520-621-1790 or risk@email.arizona.edu for assistance.

Eligibility Requirements

Teacher candidates must:

- Have a current, valid Arizona State Department of Public Safety IVP fingerprint clearance card to be eligible to student teach.
More information can be obtained on the DPS website at <http://www.azdps.gov/services/fingerprint/>
- Maintain a 3.0 GPA to be eligible for student teaching
- Attend all required pre-student teaching meetings. Two take place during Professional Learning Time (student teaching application meeting and student teaching placement meeting). The third meeting is held outside of school hours close to the start of student teaching. That date and time is well advertised months in advance of the event.

Policy Regarding Placements

It is a College of Education policy that student teachers not be placed in schools where their child or relatives attend or work, unless that school is the only available placement, such as in the case of bilingual Chinese Immersion placement. Generally, Teacher Candidates are not placed at sites where they have been employed. However, individual student requests will be considered in employment cases.

The Director of Field Experiences will work with the school district administrators to place teacher candidates with Supervising Practitioners who are qualified and available.

Accessibility and Accommodations

Our goal in this course is that learning experiences be as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience physical or academic barriers based on disability, please let me know immediately so that we can discuss options. You are also welcome to contact Disability Resources (520-621-3268) to establish reasonable accommodations. For additional information on Disability Resources and reasonable accommodations, please visit <http://drc.arizona.edu/>.

Placement Guidelines for the Elementary Program

Teacher candidates are placed in fieldwork and student teaching placements in area schools that are established UArizona Elementary partner schools and classrooms. Partner classrooms are classrooms that have been vetted by UArizona faculty and staff as K-8 classrooms which align with the Elementary Program's teaching philosophy. These are child centered classrooms that invite children to participate in developmentally appropriate engagements in settings that are socio-economically, linguistically, and culturally diverse.

All placements are made by UArizona faculty and staff and within the menu of classrooms available, accommodations for students are considered when possible, such as the need for carpooling.

Exceptions to our placement guidelines are made for the following individuals:

Indigenous Teacher Education Project (ITEP) Students – This is a federally funded grant which has additional requirements and goals for students. The Office of Field Experiences, in cooperation with ITEP faculty and staff, work with students and make these placements.

Arizona Teaching Fellows- This is a scholarship program the UArizona has with partnering school districts: Amphitheater, Flowing Wells, Marana Sahuarita, Santa Cruz, and Tucson Unified School District. Students who become “fellows” by virtue of this scholarship selection process, the school district has input into placement and placements are made in cooperation with school district administration.

Certain Other Scholarships & Grant Recipients – From time to time, students have scholarships and grants that have certain placements as conditions of the grant or scholarship. Should a student be a recipient of such a grant, they should contact Maggie Shafer in the Office of Field Experiences at margaretshafer@arizona.edu and their student advisor as soon as the scholarship or grant is awarded.

All Other Requests

Other requests for exceptions will be considered by an independent committee, only for the student teaching semester, and if the following conditions are met:

1. The student requesting the exception first meets with the Director of Field Experiences who provides an overview of the process and supplies the Exception to Placement form and due date.
2. The request is made by midterm in the semester prior to student teaching.
3. There is a compelling and unique reason for the exception. Compelling means a powerfully strong case which is hard to refute. Unique is defined as unlike anything/anyone else. For example, a parent of a child with special needs might create a compelling rationale. A student who cannot afford to travel to their assigned school would not be a unique reason for exception.
4. If the exception were to be granted, placement would not compromise the goals of the program such as:
Classroom setting can still be diverse socio-economically, linguistically, and culturally.
Pedagogical practices in the fieldwork setting need to align with program expectations.
Supervision at that setting can be arranged in a practical manner.
5. An intention to file the placement request is discussed with the site coordinator prior to completing the Exception to Placement Process Request Form.
6. The Exception to Placement Process Form should be submitted to the site coordinator or Director of Field Experiences no later than by 12 weeks before the end of the semester prior to student teaching. (see #1 above)
7. Questions can be directed to margaretshafer@arizona.edu
8. An independent committee will review the Exception to Placement submission and will render a decision, with an explanation, within two weeks of submission.

Placement Process for Student Teacher Candidates

1. Teacher Candidates will receive a potential student teaching placement information packet from the Director of Field Experiences, to include:
 - A. Potential Placement Information
 1. Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher
 2. Grade Level/Subject Area
 3. School Name
 4. School Phone Number
 - B. Copies of Professional Expectations for Teacher Candidates
 - C. Student teaching agreement form
 - D. Important Information
2. Any requests for exceptions to placement should be made to the site coordinator and/or the Director of Field Experiences at the time of the student teaching application. The Exception to Placement Process includes an application and UArizona committee review and recommendation.
3. School district administrators, principals, or directors approve potential supervising practitioners.
4. Once the teacher candidate, supervising practitioner, and site coordinator agree to the placement the principal or director of the local educational agency (LEA) must also agree.
5. The “Student Teaching Agreement” form is signed by the Supervising Practitioner, Principal or Director, and Teacher Candidate. Signed agreement forms must be returned to the Office of Field Experiences.
6. Student teachers are responsible for returning agreement forms.
7. Student teaching placements are not confirmed until signed agreement forms are returned to the Director of Field Experiences.

RESPONSIBILITY SCHEDULE INFORMATION

The Responsibility Schedule is a suggested four-part sequence for the teacher candidates and supervising practitioners. It is a norm from which the supervising practitioners, teacher candidates and program supervisors will work when structuring the teacher candidates' semester. In instances where the teacher candidates have had previous field experiences in the mentor's classroom, the schedule might be accelerated; in instances where a student teacher is progressing slowly, the schedule will be adjusted accordingly. In all cases it is essential that the supervising practitioner remain actively involved in the instructional program, monitoring the teacher candidates' progress closely. The university supervisor will collaborate with the team to insure that the teacher candidate does meet the minimum four week requirement of maximum teaching responsibility and completes the required number of days of student teaching. It is important to remember that teacher candidates' calendars will need to be monitored and adjusted throughout the student teaching experience as this is good teaching practice.

All teacher candidates are required to complete a Responsibility Schedule and submit it to their university supervisor for approval as early in the semester as possible. The university supervisor will likely have a deadline by which the responsibility schedule is due.

Student Teaching Selection Process

Most often, and ideally, teacher candidates return to student teach to a teacher with whom they have worked with during a practicum phase of their program, provided:

- a) the mentor teacher meets the criteria listed below as verified by the school principal,
- b) the mentor teacher is willing to serve as a UA supervising practitioner for the capstone experience; this is verified in 1:1 meeting with the UA site coordinator
- c) the UA student and mentor agree that they have a good working relationship; this is verified in 1:1 meeting by the UA site coordinator

In this way, teacher candidates have two semesters of learning with one mentor teacher. From time to time and for various reasons, a teacher candidate does not return to a previous mentor's classroom to student teach. When that occurs, the Director of Field Experiences, using the grade level preferences identified by the student teacher, works with school district partners to identify another qualified cooperating teacher for the UA student. Preference is first given to the school district of the student's program cohort.

Qualifications

The University of Arizona Cooperating Teacher must:

- Be certified to teach by the Arizona as Department of Education (ADE) and employed as a teacher

*Requirements as specified by the Arizona Department of Education (R2-604.17)

Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher Responsibilities

While many of the student teachers have been working with their cooperating teachers prior to student teaching, it is important that all cooperating teachers:

- Acquaint the student teacher with the school, staff, teachers, children, families and community
- Guide unit and lesson planning
- Co-plan and co-teach throughout the semester
- Review all school and classroom policies, regulations, and practices, for example emergency procedures and process for signing children in and out of the school

- Communicate, as soon as possible, any particular concerns regarding the teacher candidate to the university supervisor.
- Communicate any program/personnel concerns, as soon as possible, to the Director of Field Experiences

Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher Feedback

Evaluation as a Continuous Process

Feedback and support from the University Program Supervisor and supervising practitioner cooperating is essential. Data from observations along with questions about what students think about that data often elicits the best type of student reflections. Suggestions, and alternative strategies will also help teacher candidates to continue to grow throughout their experience.

1. The time and location of conferences should be planned in advance, if possible. The setting should be informal and in a location where few interruptions are likely to occur.
2. The conferences should be characterized by a free exchange of ideas. It is helpful if many of the topics are problem-centered in terms of seeking answers to methodological or curriculum problems. Alternative solutions to such concerns should be analyzed with both the student teacher and cooperating/mentor teacher offering ideas. The use of video or audio taping can provide data for the conference.

3. The conferences should contribute to the teacher candidate becoming increasingly self-directive and self-reflective.
4. Analysis of the teacher candidate's performance should achieve an appropriate balance between strengths and areas in need of further development.
5. Supervising practitioners should offer suggestions and learning environment ideas. Student teachers appreciate the time the supervising practitioner takes to show them instructional materials, curriculum guides, diagnostic and assessment instruments and the modeling of effective instructional strategies.

Daily Conferences

Daily conferences of comparatively short duration will give attention to matters of immediate consequence such as: adjustment of plans, coordination of instruction, the identification and solution of daily issues, and instructional feedback. The timing of such conferences may vary from day to day.

Weekly Conferences

Weekly conferences have many uses including: weekly co-planning, cooperative evaluation of the teacher candidates' competence and growth, analysis of the classroom teacher's instructional and classroom management procedures, and development of in-depth understanding of student performance in relation to instruction.

Video Recording

Video and audio recording may be used to as opportunities to self-reflect on professional practice or when supervisors cannot directly observe student teachers in person. When recordings are used, teacher candidates will work with their supervising practitioner to strictly follow all school and district guidelines.

Conferences with the Program Supervisor

- The initial on-site visit constitutes the first conference.
- Observations usually begin the second week of student teaching and continue every two to three weeks throughout the semester.
- The observations continue and the midterm conference is scheduled to include the teacher candidate and supervising practitioner. At the conference, the midterm assessment instrument will be discussed.
- The final conference brings closure to the student teaching experience.

Compensation for Supervising Practitioners/Cooperating Teachers

The stipend for hosting a University of Arizona teacher is five hundred dollars ($500.00) each semester. All supervising practitioners are required to fill out a compensation card at the beginning of each semester. If two supervising practitioners share responsibility for a teacher candidate, the compensation will be divided equally and each supervising practitioner is required to complete a compensation card. Incomplete cards will delay the payment process.

Supervising practitioners who supervise teacher candidates who complete half their student teaching internationally will receive half of the stipend. ($250).

Stipend requests are processed through the College of Education business office, sent to the Financial Services Office and checks are issued approximately four to six (4 to 6) weeks after the completion of the university academic semester.

The supervising practitioner also earn 30 professional development credit hours that may be used for Arizona State recertification for their work with student teachers.

Additional Information Regarding Compensation

- Supervising practitioners who were employed or terminated by the University of Arizona in the past twelve (12) calendar months must indicate that on the compensation card and are required to complete a Non Competitive Extra Help online application and will receive a payroll check. Approval from the university department is required.
- Social Security numbers are not kept on file and must be provided each term.
- Compensation cannot be processed without a signature or if there is any incomplete or incorrect information.
- If you are not a citizen or national of the United States or a lawful permanent resident, you must present original, valid, unexpired employment documentation to the Office of Field Experiences.
- Cash stipends are taxable income and reported to the Internal Revenue Service.
- Compensation will come in the form of a check to the address indicated on the compensation card each supervising practitioner completes and submits to the University Program Supervisor.
- Supervising practitioners who want their compensation to be directly deposited into their account must complete additional paperwork and upload it to our secure Financial Services Office. The Director of Field Experiences will send information regarding direct deposit at the beginning of the semester.

University/Program Supervisor Information

Office of Field Experiences

University Supervisors

Qualifications

University Program Supervisors are full and part time College of Education faculty members, lecturers, adjunct faculty members, and graduate students in the Department of Teaching, Learning and Sociocultural Studies.

University supervisors work together with teacher candidates, mentor teachers, and site coordinators, to form a valuable support system to assure successful field experiences. In accordance with Arizona Department of Education's guidelines, all University supervisors (program supervisors) must have:

- Professional work experiences that are relevant to the certification/license the candidate is seeking,
- Adequate training from the professional preparation institution (PPI).
(ADE refers to all teacher preparation programs as PPIs. Here, the PPI is the U of A.)

Overview of Requirements

Supervision of teacher candidates involves a variety of strategies and assessments. Throughout the required student teaching days, supervisors make weekly contacts, which are essential in order to assure two-way communication. Classroom observations are required every two to three weeks, in an ongoing way throughout the semesters, to evaluate the student teacher's progress in all areas, not just instructional and classroom management strategies. Due to the fact that a major goal of our program is to develop teachers who are reflective practitioners, supervision is conducted through facilitative coaching. A variety of assessment instruments are used during the semester. These include: Informal and formal observations, midterm and final conferences involving the Program/University supervisor, Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher, and teacher candidate, portfolio assessment, and a time card which documents attendance and other requirements. The supervision of teacher candidates is a supportive, informative, and caring process.

Student Teacher, Mentor/Cooperating Teacher & University Supervisor Three Way Meetings

#1 Initial Meeting/Orientation – This is an orientation meeting which is scheduled with the Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher and the Teacher Candidate by the Program/University Supervisor. At this meeting, student teaching expectations are reviewed, and the business of coursework is conducted. As an example, at this meeting, supervising practitioners fill out paperwork for their financial compensation.

- It is important to find a place in the classroom that can be used for written communication so when supervisors are visiting the school and need to exchange written communication, they will not need to interrupt the instruction. (For example: tray, folder, and counter area)
- This is a good time for the supervisor to be given a school handbook, which will include important practical information such as a map, school calendar, hours, and names of staff.
- Supervisors need to verify with the supervising practitioner that the teacher candidate knows the emergency procedures of the school at the time of the initial visit and that the supervising practitioner reviews any additional mandatory reporting procedures for the school beyond (A.R.S 13-3620) the teacher candidate should know.

#2 Mid-Semester Evaluation Conference – This is the midterm evaluation meeting that is scheduled with the Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher and the Teacher Candidate by the Program/University Supervisor sometime during the 7th or 8th week of the semester. This is a three-way conference; that is, input from the university supervisor, mentor teacher and the student teacher is included in the assessment.

#3 Final Conference – This is the end of the course evaluation meeting that is scheduled with the Supervising Practitioner/Cooperating Teacher and the Student Teacher by the University Supervisor during the last two weeks of the student teaching experience. This is a three-way conference; that is, input from the university supervisor, mentor teacher and the student teacher is included in the assessment.

Scheduling

University of Arizona supervisors are required to schedule the initial meeting and evaluation conferences but are not required to schedule all observations. While it is highly recommended that most observations be scheduled. Due to the complicated school and classroom schedules when students may not be in the classroom, it is more productive for time management to schedule observation times.

Amount of Time/Written Feedback

The amount of time a University Supervisor spends observing a student teacher in a classroom will depend on the objective of the observation. Early in the semester, the supervisor may drop in to get to know the learning environment and observe the student teacher interact with students and may only stay a short while. As the student assumes a larger role in instruction, the observation time should increase.

Please note that it is very important to schedule some coaching time directly after each observation, regardless of the amount of time the student was observed. Remember that good teaching includes timely feedback. Supervisors will decide the appropriate amount of time to schedule. For example: 60 minutes of observation with a 50-minute debriefing/coaching is a good standard. Times may vary slightly. Supervisors must provide written feedback to the student teacher within 24 hours of the observation. Many supervisors leave handwritten notes after the observation. Others send feedback summaries electronically. The choice is up to the supervisor.

When the teacher candidate is in the midst of his/her 20-day full responsibility requirement, it is very important to schedule observations on different days and at different times of day in order to have the opportunity to observe the teacher facilitate learning in different contexts, and use a variety of instructional strategies and classroom management techniques.

It is expected that each teacher candidate will be formally observed a minimum of five times during the semester within every 2-3 weeks.

Weekly Contacts with Teacher Candidates

Supervisors will make weekly contacts with teacher candidates throughout the semester. This will give supervisors a chance to answer individual questions and establish two-way communication strategies. Weekly contacts may include university meetings, conferences, e-mail, phone or written communication. Students may be required to keep a journal.

Coaching

Our supervision model is grounded in the belief that self-reflection fosters professional growth. Towards that end, supervisors will engage in active coaching, particularly during the reflective conference following observations.

Seminars

Teacher candidates are released from one day of student teaching for a student teaching seminar. Seminars are meetings scheduled by the university supervisors to meet with their assigned student teachers. They are opportunities for teaching and answering student teacher's questions and for addressing student needs as observed in classrooms. Supervisors will find that teacher candidates will have many questions about their requirements, school procedures, classroom management strategies, and scheduling. Seminars provide time to answer questions and provide needed information.

Seminars may be combined with other activities. For example: Two supervisors may decide to cover the same topic and want to combine their groups of student teachers or a guest speaker may be scheduled for several groups. Seminars are considered one of the "weekly contacts."

Assessment of Teacher Candidate Performance

Office of Field Experiences

Assessment of Teacher Candidate Performance

Grading

Satisfactory completion of student teaching (P) requires the following two criteria:

- a) A satisfactory performance on the FINAL student teaching evaluation instrument. Satisfactory performance is defined as a student achieving proficient (3) and/or accomplished (4) scores for all/most criteria. Satisfactory completion may include and emergent score(2) on a criterion or criteria as long as the majority of individual scores in any one of the four domains (Learning Environment, Planning, Preparation, Instruction & Assessment & Professionalism) are at a level 3 or above, AND
- b) Satisfactory completion of the student e-portfolio. This includes providing appropriate evidence of required criteria by due date as specified by the program supervisor.

Unsatisfactory completion of student teaching (F) is defined as any one of the following criteria:

- a) An earned rubric score of “not evident” (1) in any criteria on the FINAL student teaching evaluation instrument, OR
- b) A majority of earned “emergent” scores (2) in any one domain (Learning Environment, Planning and Preparation, Instruction & Assessment & Professionalism) on the FINAL student teaching evaluation instrument, OR
- c) Submission of an incomplete portfolio or failure to submit a portfolio.

The teacher candidate who successfully completes student teaching requirements will receive the grade of “P” (pass) indicating he/she has received the prescribed units of credit for the course. The student who, in the judgment of the cooperating/mentor teacher and university supervisor, has failed to progress sufficiently during the student teaching experience will receive the grade of “F” (fail). Neither a passing nor a failing grade is included in the computation of the graduation grade average. All required materials must be received in the Office of Field Experiences before grades will be posted.

Required Assessments

1. Teacher Candidate Midterm/Final Evaluation, which is a performance based instrument.
2. Portfolio Assessment: Artifacts contained within support the criteria evaluated on the Teacher Candidate Midterm/Final Evaluation. This portfolio is reviewed and evaluated by Program/University Supervisors
3. Teacher Candidate Time Card Reflecting 66 completed student teaching days. The Teacher Candidate Time Card will confirm attendance, observations, supervisor seminars, or conferences and provide documentation of completed requirements.

Midterm and Final Conference Guidelines

Scheduling: Be proactive when scheduling.

Midterm Conference – - approximately halfway through the required number of student teaching days

Final Conference – the last two weeks of the student teaching experience

Teacher Candidate Midterm and Final Evaluation

The University of Arizona official form is to be used for these conferences. Midterm and final forms must be signed and returned to the Director of Field Experiences for review and as an official record.

Procedures for Completing University of Arizona Assessment Forms

The Program/University Supervisor, Supervising Practitioner, and Teacher Candidate will fill out the assessment form once at the midterm and once for the final evaluation. Then, together at a conference with the supervisor, teacher candidate and supervising practitioner, all input will be combined to create the one midterm and one final report.

Note: When consensus cannot be reached in regard to a rubric score or scores, the Program/University Supervisor shall make the final determination. All three signatures and the date must be placed on the signature page of the evaluation form at the midterm and the final conference. Signatures indicate participation in the process.

The midterm assessment and the final assessment should be filed in the students' electronic UA Box folder within a week after the midterm or final assessment has been completed. All documents are due in UA box by the last day of the semester. Signed and dated evaluation signature pages for each student, as well as student time cards, are turned in to the Office of Field Experiences on the last day of each semester.

Office of Field Experiences

PROCESS FOR TEACHER CANDIDATE CONCERNS

It is imperative that the University/Program Supervisors identify difficulties early in the semester and notify the Director of Field Experiences as soon as a problem becomes evident. The following action should be taken without delay:

- I. A concern form is completed and sent to the Director of Field Experiences, with a copy to the teacher candidate. The Director of Field Experiences sends a copy of the concern form to the Director of the Elementary Program. Discussion of supports for the student are conducted and put into place when appropriate, ensuring that the teacher candidate understands the concern and the expectation(s).
- II. If the concern continues, a professional growth plan will be developed by the university/program supervisor and the supervising practitioner/cooperating teacher, which will be signed by the university supervisor, the supervising practitioner/cooperating teacher, the student teacher at a conference with the Director of Field Experiences. A copy is sent to the Director of the Elementary Program. This professional growth plan will be written in such a way so that expectations will be clear to the teacher candidate and supports for success will be included to help make success possible. In all cases, continued concerns will be handled within the established UA Teacher Professional Preparation Concerns Due Process.

NOTE:

In certain situations, a student may need to be moved to a second teaching assignment or removed temporarily or totally from student teaching. Difficulties, such as: personality conflicts, conflicting expectations, excessive absences, inadequate performance, or school site decisions are some of the typical causes. At all times, the Office of Field Experiences will follow the UA Teacher Professional Preparation Performance Concerns Due Process to ensure a fair process.

Teacher Candidate Portfolio Criteria – Spring 2020

You are to create an electronic portfolio.

Requirements of the –E-Portfolio

Using the UA Teacher Candidate Midterm/Final Evaluation Instrument, you are to select a minimum of 12 criteria with representation across all four domains on the instrument: The Learning Environment, Planning and Preparation, Instruction & Assessment and Professionalism & Growth.

For each criteria selected, provide evidence in your portfolio that documents your proficiency in this criteria. Note that an artifact/piece of evidence may demonstrate more than one criteria.

You are encouraged to select evidence that reflects your competence, unique strengths, and your identity as a teacher.

Evidence of proficiency in the 12 criteria is a minimum. Feel free to add evidence of further proficiency/accomplishments.

Assessment

This portfolio will be assessed by your UA Program Supervisor.

A passing score requires all four of the following:

- a) The establishment of an e-portfolio that contains at a minimum, evidence of proficiency in 12 self-selected criteria from the UA Teacher Candidate Midterm/Final Evaluation Instrument.
- b) The self-selected criteria must represent a cross section of all four domains on the UA Teacher Candidate Midterm/Final Evaluation Instrument.
- c) The e-portfolio must clearly convey which criteria were selected and what evidence is provided for each selection.
- d) The submission on or before UA's reading day (day before finals) for that semester.

Guidelines for Student Teaching Intern Certificate Requests

For Fall

1. If a student has not yet taken their NES professional knowledge test and passed, that teacher candidate cannot be considered for a STIC position any later than 5 weeks prior to the first day teachers report.
 2. STIC candidates must take a pass both NES Elementary Content Subtests (I & II) prior to the first day of teaching.
 3. Teacher candidates are not allowed to teach, by state rules, if they are not certified. Therefore, if the arrival of the Student Teaching Intern Certificate is expected to be late, the student teaching intern may be required to apply for an emergency substitute certificate (and assume that additional cost) and work as an emergency substitute in the interim or work alongside a substitute teacher, without pay, until the Student Teaching Intern Certificate is in hand.
 4. We will ask schools/school districts to limit students in classrooms assigned to student teaching interns to a maximum of 26 students.
 5. School districts are encouraged to reduce/eliminate the extra duties of a student teaching intern, normally assigned to a teacher, while they are student teaching.

Student Teaching Intern Process (STIC)

Process:

1. LEA reaches out to Office of Field Experiences (OFE) with a STIC request. OFE sends LEA Exhibit B to complete. Exhibit B indicates official interest in student as STIC for a paid residency. OFE sends the contact a copy of the written supervision plan to review so that the LEA knows the STIC program expectations. IF THE LEA DOES NOT ALREADY HAVE A FIELD PLACEMENT AGREEMENT WITH UARIZONA, this also has to be completed before the STIC can start.
2. Once Exhibit B is submitted, OFE reaches out to teacher candidate for a meeting to explain the process which includes:
 - a. An online application to be a STIC, which names references
 - b. Information about tests the student will have to pass as an ADE requirement. Student is encouraged to register quickly for the test. The professional knowledge (PK) takes about 4+ weeks to get a score. We do not allow STIC applications for students who have not yet taken the PK test at least 6 weeks before the start of the STIC internship. Therefore, the semester before student teaching, we encourage all students to take the PK test. This avoids the student having to start as an emergency substitute and possibly not passing the test and having to be pulled from that classroom.
 - c. A request for a statement of purpose (basically a 1-2 page paper where the student explains their readiness for the job at hand). Student receives "Statement of Purpose Essential Tips" document.
 - d. A request to get copies of passing scores on tests. For elementary it is the PK test and two elementary content subtests. It is different for each certification.
3. Once 2(a) is submitted, OFE sends an online reference form to the references named on the application and also one to the student's site coordinator, who checks with instructors in program re student performance, work ethic, and ability to handle a paid residency.
4. Two box folders exist. One is called "STIC current," the other STIC archive.
One (a) is completed, OFE sets up a folder in "STIC current." That folder will house all three references, the student's application and the student's statement of purpose.
5. OFE has a standing committee to review STIC candidates for the paid residency. The committee members include other program coordinators, other site coordinators (not the student's), and when time permits, an advisor. Three members of the committee are charged with reviewing the student's fitness for STIC and render a decision.
- 6.
7. The student and LEA is notified of the committee's decision. If tests have not yet passed, the student is "approved pending passing scores on all required tests."
8. The student then must complete ADE's application for STIC. Section 1 is completed by our certification officer, Sara Knepper. OFE notifies Sara that the student has been approved. She completes Section 1. Section II must be completed by the LEA and signed by the District or LEA Superintendent (an asst supt will not do!). Usually the principal at the school requesting the STIC helps the student get that portion signed. The rest of the application is completed by the approved STIC candidate who submits it to ADE along with their passing test scores and $60.
9. OFE then meets with the principal of the LEA and the site assigned mentor to review the terms of the written supervision plan and get signatures from both. The Site Mentor is not paid from the University because the STIC is a paid employee of the school district. OFE encourages the site administrator to compensate the site mentor either financially or with relief from other duties.
10. A UA Program supervisor is selected for this supervision. That supervisor is compensated for the increased visits and observations and for the job of reviewing the student/mentor teachers' weekly log.
