The Muir Trek is a sunrise to sunset journey through a natural wild place no one knows. Inspired by Sierra Club founder John Muir, who would head into the wilds of nature seeking only the day’s richness with no set destination.

The goal of a Muir Trek is an internal one, to be conscious and joyful in being outdoors in direct contact with the earth. There is time to sit and watch and reflect on the natural world, and to saunter and wander over relatively short distances.

Muir Trek Schedule

Day 1
Join us at 5pm at Camp Cooper for orientation, dinner & an overnight stay.

Day 2
Experience the Muir Trek - from sunrise to sunset.

Details & Registration

Email coe-coopercenter@arizona.edu
Call 520-626-1825

$35 per participant*

*Fees include all course materials, overnight lodging at Camp Cooper on Friday November 8th, dinner that evening, as well as food during the Trek on Saturday. Scholarships are available.

COOPER CENTER for ENVIRONMENTAL LEARNING

The Cooper Center for Environmental Learning (Camp Cooper) provides adventurous and hands-on overnight and day learning experiences in the Sonoran Desert. The Center is powered by a groundbreaking partnership between the Tucson Unified School District, who owns and maintains the facilities, and the University of Arizona’s College of Education, who facilitates educational programming for learners of all ages.